

Online Quran Learning

Introduction

Learning Quran is the part of our religious culture. In the past, children go to their near Masjids to learn Quran and complete it in childhood. Now a days, people are getting older and they have not completed their Quran learning. Now people have less interest in learning the Quran and they have much attention towards other things. These observations inspired us to start this project to make the Quran easy to learn and to serve our religion.

Problem Statement

Recently, there has been a great interest in Islamic software that try to harness computer to serve the religion. However, these computer-programs, especially those developed for the sake of the noble Quran are still limited. Quran Learner and tutor remain vigilant to face the challenges of change by employing new technology in Holy Quran learning. To add a significant contribution to serving Islam and helping others in the learning process there is a need for a software system where learners and tutors can learn Quran.

Objectives

- To develop a website that would help users to learn the Quran according to their preferred language and time zone.
- To help people to find the Quran tutor more efficiently and easily.
- To increase the outreach of tutor to potential Quran learner.
- To make learning the Quran easy for overseas Pakistani.
- To promote Quran learning in all age group.
